

“Modus Operandi!”

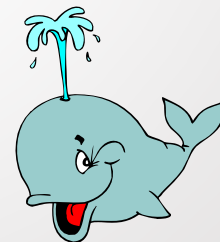

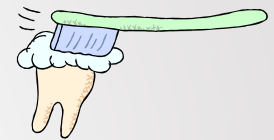

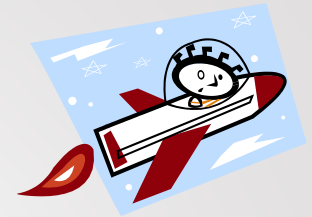

Let's discover, together just HOW things really work.

Hi Everyone! Mama Pajama's Playhouse is back to support Summer Reading Program 2014's theme "Fizz! Boom! Read!" with a brand-new, original, live, interactive, Musical Story Show coming to libraries across New York State in July and August 2014. "Modus Operandi!" explodes with interesting scientific activities audience members can try for themselves, thought provoking books, Information and Fun Facts about how things work, and of course, no MPP performance would be complete without the interactive music Mama Pajama's young audiences have come to know and love throughout the years. Don't miss this one-of-a-kind experience that will leave kids wanting more knowledge, renting more library books, and exploring science this summer in a super fun way. Join us and maybe you'll leave knowing the answers to some of these questions.
